SUBJECT	Tairua-Pauanui representative on Creative Coromandel - He Mana Toi Moehau Trust

1 Purpose of Report

This report seeks an appointment by the Tairua-Pauanui Community Board to Creative Coromandel - He Mana Toi Moehau Trust (formerly known as Coromandel Arts and Creative Industries Advisory Board)

2 Background

On 29 June 2016 Council resolved to endorse the Coromandel Arts and Creative Industries Strategy and to establish the Coromandel Arts and Creative Industries Advisory Board. The strategy had been developed over the preceding year, driven predominantly by the various arts communities and tangata whenua around the peninsula with council staff playing a role in facilitation and creation of the final strategy. Council is now a partner to this strategy, with the last Council intending that community boards hold the primary responsibility of engaging with tangata whenua and the arts communities in their respective areas to develop agreed action plans and to undertake work on these action plans across a set timeframe.

The Advisory Board have recently formed a trust and are now known as Creative Coromandel - He Mana Toi Moehau Trust.

The structure for the trust provides for the Tairua-Pauanui Community Board to make one appointment from nominees within the Tairua-Pauanui Community Board area who have completed an expression of interest application. The South East Coromandel Arts Council was also able to make an appointment to the advisory board however they have not been able to provide a representative for this area.

There has recently been an expression of interest for the remaining role for Tairua-Pauanui area on the Board by Judith Elliot which the South East Coromandel Arts Council had been unable to fill.
